Thank you everyone for all the amazing prayer, support and love for Alex and I as we were married. It has meant so much to us that you were sharing in our excitement and thinking of us throughout the whole process. From the very first time that Alex and I met this congregation the encouragement and support you have offered has always reminded us how blessed we are to be with you as we begin our lives together. The photographs from the ceremony and reception have not come in yet, but when they do we will be sharing them during a fellowship hour. Our next steps are waiting for my first call placement and then figuring out where the adventure of our vocations takes us to minister next. These are really exciting times for Alex and I and we are so grateful for all of you.
